Wild Horses

Adrenalin, yeah I know ! But you don't want to take Santa Claus away from the children either. Stil, who are we to claim knowledge of everything. So If you have been In the dark for too long you tend to get misanthropical. I like the hope, rather than the egocentric darkness. I like animals, animals are true to nature. They don't fuck up, they´re just true to their nature.

One of my first memories from my childhood playground are wild horses. I were on my way to the mill, the one In the center of the world. The horses had run loose from the horse gate. There I stood In the middle of the road & horses coming towards me, running wild. I froze, could not move. But the horses didn't runn me down. They ran beside me. Just looked at me and ran past me. I saw strait into their big black eyes.

Yeeeaah Iv kind of been a "Rockstar" since I were a kid. Easy to spot easy to spot. Actually as remembered not always cool to be In the "spotlight". You kind of wanna be as everyone els & special. So If the ones you expect should be the trusted ones, actually try to make you look like a fool. Not cool at all, at all. When the christians try to make a fool of you and you don't want attention & scare you and tell your going to hell If you don't belive & submit to Christianity. You broke my chi, you broke a 14 year old kids chi !

As mentioned earlier, I belive they probably would try to kick the moon out of orbit too keep that one In the dark ! Not to mention how many murders you've tried to throw at innocent people. Running your hired "muscle" trying to lure, deceive & murder. You actually tried to murder me to keep It In the dark. Pathetic & last but not least how you control and manipulate the police & media. Thats what so fuck with many of you. You operate with dirty trix & even dirtier to make some one of "importance" agree with you. And leave the kids alone. Pedo fucks! Its sick. But the idea of the Hope & Goodness Is great. So once again, don't want to take Father Christmas away from the children. But Im stealing your symbol, the cross Is mine !

As I said, animals don't fuck up like us humans. This Is where I would tell you all of what bullies, authorities, priests & jealous idiots. Friends you think were your friends & humans do, did, does & gonna do. Ups, Iv already told you. So If you fall Into one of the categories or invaded my privacy too manipulate, confuse or hold me back, you might as well go blow your fucking brains out !

And Im for sure ain`t sucking no dick or any other dirty trix for radio airplay, gigs or lucrative contracts. I kept my integrity.

You made me a circus elefant & refuse me to participate In the arena. Its pathetic. If it hadn't been for me been given a bit extra In mind, body and soul I would never had made It through. Although I carry no bitterness, nor no depressions. It`s not a grudge, just a demand of retribution for everything Iv had to go through. You work against me, giving me a hard time. When I work harder than everyone, to achieve my serenity & goals. And how you attack me, trying to stress a relapse with your stupid emotional psychopathic distress operations. Trying to put me In a bad stand & make me seem psychological less than. For over 20 years you`ve been at It. Its pathetic. How do you want to be remembered !

And I have to address the Police. Since you already know of all of the above. You are so super duper duper super heroes. I have to say I admire you. Lousy payed, up In the mornings shitting bricks before 6 Am & risking yourself everyday. "Your so good & amazing". So amazing that If something remains unsolved. You probably did It yourself !

Life Is like karma, what you give may be what you get & what you put into your body determines how you look & how you look may determine your quality of life. Take care of what you put into your chi. Plant a tree, make your surroundings burst of good karma. We all live In hell, but hell may not be a bad place. It´s what we make of It. We all go to heaven In the end. Make the path you travel In life great for you and your surroundings to the best of you abilities until the day you fly away.

I like the hope & goodness In things, I wish to speak great about things. I carry the light, bring hope & walk with an aura of warmth & greatness. You cant do that with a poisoned & clouded mind.

Well nevertheless. Still got much life to live & as you know. The best stories are told at the dawn of time…
